Hospitality from EWI Chattanooga For 2007 Academy of Leadership (AOL) EWI Visitors

The Chattanooga Chapter has the opportunity to network with other EWI chapter visitors and their spouses Friday, March 30, 2007. The AOL Committee invites you to participate in this opportunity and share what makes Chattanooga so special.

The committee wants to thank Lynda Childress of Luken Holdings, Inc. They have offered the beautifully renovated lobby of the James Building for our reception. The Concierge Level, LLC, Denise Reed, and Tennessee Valley Federal Credit Union, Karen Hannifin, have offered to assist with hors d'oeuvres. We hope there will be other firms willing to promote their firms with donations of time, money or items to make this a stellar event. The EWI Chapter Board would like to promote the firms that participate in this event with the opportunity to have a public thank you presented to our guests. We want to publish your firm in our press release following this event, too. If you would like to help with this event and welcome our visitors, contact Denise Reed at The Concierge Level, LLC 266-6388.

Chattanooga Chapter President's Message

On February 20th, our chapter presented scholarship checks to UTC and Chattanooga State. Press releases for these events will be released soon, along with photographs of the presentations. An email invitation to both presentations was sent to all our representatives. This was a great opportunity to promote your member firm. Margaret Browning (Chattanooga Coca-Cola), Karen Hannifin (Tennessee Valley Federal Credit Union), Lori Pruett (FedEx Kinko's), Tanya Travis (Miller & Martin PLLC), Barbara Verhine (The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga) and I (Law Offices of Lloyd Stanley) were present at UTC. Margaret Browning, Karen Hannifin, Barbara Morgan (Chattanooga State Technical Community College), Lori Pruett, Denise Reed (The Concierge Level, LLC) and I were present at Chattanooga State. Watch the press and our "press" page on the website for these releases.

The four representatives in our chapter who have attended an Academy of Leadership seminar were invited to participate in a radio interview with Rabbit of WUTC on the first of March. Tanya Travis and I spoke with Rabbit. (Unfortunately, Karen Hannifin and Zelma Pack had last minute work conflicts.) The program will air on WUTC's new "Around and About" segment sometime mid-March. While our primary focus was on the Academy of Leadership on Tour scheduled for March 31 at UTC, and general information about EWI and our chapter, you can bet we took the opportunity to promote our firms.

The first in the 2007 series of four teleseminars, all presented in partnership with Dale Carnegie Training, will be held at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, March 6th. These seminars are free and available to every employee of every member firm. Please watch the website calendar and help spread the value of EWI's personal and professional development throughout your entire firm.

As with most things in life, what you put into something dictates what you get out of it. When you have the opportunity to maximize the value of EWI, taking advantage of that opportunity will maximize your personal and professional growth.

With my thanks,
Nancy Harrison
